PURELY PERSONAL.

Edward M. House declares that his trip to Europe was not undertaken for any specific official purpose. He admits that he met with many of the leaders, but claims that, knowing them, it was the natural thing to do. We believe him. And we believe, in addition, that he will be able to give President Wilson a clear insight into many conditions that have been vaguely understood in the United States. We think that no prospect of peace is contained in the visit of any person to Europe; for Europe must determine its own destiny in its own way, now and for all—that is, once and for all so far as the next few generations are concerned.

COMPENSATIONS.

The late Chief Justice Brown left an estate valued at $35,000. Judge Brown was a man of charitable impulse, but was not careless of expenditures. He lived modestly and perhaps never considered the dollar mark in his life. We wonder if as much ability and labor could be invested by a man in commercial life with as little to show for it! Yet, according to the plan, men must invest their energies, and some of them must find sufficient reward in the love of their work and the knowledge of its importance to their fellows.

Japanese designs on the Philippines are made in America.

Warm weather makes undertow less blossom like the wild rose.

Paving paving doesn't affect a premanent saving. Some grapes make poor wine.

Band concerts are apropos. There's nothing like a little music to tickle sentiment.

What does it avail? As fast as Italy gains territory in the south, Austria and Germany gain more in the north.

The Late Late Digest: "Do stomach feel?" Answer: eat five cucumbers, four radishes, three beans, one lobster and a doughnut.

Miss Jane Adams says that it is a mistake to use force on a husband. Never having owned one, Miss Adams speaks without prejudice.

So many guns were turned loose in a free-for-all near Brownsville that officers don't know whom to arrest. It is only known for certain that the dead were involved.

A. M. McFadden offers $300 to each Victoria county farmer who raises 300 bushels of corn on 3 acres. This is a fine offer; but we hardly think that it will bankrupt Mr. McFadden.

The Dallas Chamber of Commerce estimates that its home town has 140,000 inhabitants. San Antonio and Houston figures will be published later, with the advantage of the Dallas estimates to go on.

One Bill Berol advertisingly boasts that he "has 300,000 facts and figures stored away in his brain." Bill speaks inaccurately. What he probably intends to say is, that he has his brain stored away in 300,000 facts and figures.

Carrau declares that he controls 87 1/2 per cent. of Mexico and Villa declares that he runs 75 per cent. Adding the claims, we get 162 1/2 per cent., which should forever still the voice of the pessimist who thinks that Mexico isn't growing.

REASON APPLIED.

The Sherman Act is being interpreted according to its inherent intent. The mere bigness of business, if conducted along reputable lines, is no longer considered damnable. The recent decision of the United States Circuit Court, sitting at Trenton, N. J., in the suit against the United States Steel Corporation, illustrates the point. Following a ruling of the Supreme Court, it held that the combination, neither restricting competition nor obstructing trade, was not illegal in nature, and was consequently not subject to dissolution. This is a step forward. The Sherman Act, to perform its intended service, must not be made a preface to anarchy, but rather a means of reaching business wrong in principle and application.

GATHERING CLOUDS.

The election of M. Venizelos and his friends makes it look like war for Greece, and the claim that Rumania is about to take a hand gains significance. Pretty soon, at this rate, most of the world will be aligned against Germany, Austria and Turkey, and we can not help wondering how complex the attainment of peace will be, with so many hands reaching for it. However, the advent of each nation in war makes the day of reckoning closer. Considering this way, terrible losses are most humerous.

The rapids and falls of the Columbia river have been circumvented by a minute canal between Dalles and Celilo. This is commercially satisfactory; but just think how celebrated Columbia salmon will feel if they are denied their annual festival of leaping the falls!

Berlin newspapers strike a conciliatory note. We hope that the note may be more musical than exasperating, for we have always greatly admired German music. In fact, we had rather admire it than despise it. Somehow the Wagnerian drama impresses us as being a trifle too heavy for purposes of joyous pedal progression.

Mr. Bryan is said to earn $175,000 a year on the lecture platform. If so, he is not to be blamed for giving up a position so fraught with dispassion and hazardous labor. It can be readily realized, at least a glance that the lecture platform has the Democratic platform skinned forty ways from Riley Sunday.

Champ Clark has invited all Missourians to Geneva's wedding. If the idea takes, his daughter's husband can open several stores and still be able to present enough presents to keep house on. There's nothing small about Champ. When he arranges a circus, he models it after the finest variety. Just think of what old P. T. Barnum would have given for such a wedding as an advertisement!

CORPUS CHRISTIANS ASKED TO ASSIST BUCKNER ORPHANS HOME

From Dr. H. C. Buckner of Buckner Orphans Home the Caller has received the following communication:

"Buckner's Orphans Home is doing God's Work. God is the author of charity, divine love and sympathy for dependent orphan children. Let me add that the combination of the United States Steel Corporation, illustrates the point. Following a ruling of the Supreme Court, it held that the combination, neither restricting competition nor obstructing trade, was not illegal in nature, and was consequently not subject to dissolution. This is a step forward. The Sherman Act, to perform its intended service, must not be made a preface to anarchy, but rather a means of reaching business wrong in principle and application.

Dependent orphans are not responsible for the place where they live or where they were born, nor for the religious beliefs or unbeliefs of their parents.

This being true in its charter and in its practice for all the years of its existence, it is natural and reasonable that it should receive support from everywhere and from everybody willing to help.

How can the expense stand to keep during the dull summer season?

For everybody, whether Baptist, Christian or any denomination or unbaptized.

Contributions have fallen off and expenses increased till the problem of room and support has become quite difficult.
